Team Selection Waiting Plan

Separate the confirmed decision process from rumors, plan one proper status inquiry, and help the athlete keep the present day's ordinary responsibilities.

An unreleased decision should remain unknown.

Example: The program names Friday email as the decision route. The family records that fact, plans the permitted status inquiry if no email arrives, and keeps Thursday's school task separate from an unverified roster prediction.

01 Know the process

An unreleased decision should remain unknown.

Official decision channel

Stated announcement time or unknown

Program contact for missing information

Source of confirmed process

02 Limit the guessing

Keep verified facts separate from predictions and rumors.

What is actually known

Hope the athlete wants to name

Rumor or prediction left unclaimed

Next appropriate status inquiry

Team Selection Waiting Plan / Review & follow-through

03 Live today's duty

Waiting does not need to consume every ordinary responsibility.

Agreed official-channel check

Ordinary present duty

Help needed for that duty

Trusted support person

04 Respond to the real answer

Prepare choices without claiming an outcome in advance.

Possible acceptance duty

Possible nonselection conversation

Actual decision when announced

Actual next step and review