Whiteboard Explanation Scope

A drawing needs a purpose and an honest instruction status.

An athlete's explanation may clarify a question without becoming the coach's decision.

Hypothetical example: an athlete draws two waiting locations in a permitted blank area, and the coach confirms one current direction before clearing the unapproved drawing.

01 Ask what the athlete wants to show

Record the athlete's explanation purpose.

Question the athlete wants to show

Actual purpose of the drawing

Proposal or understanding still unconfirmed

02 Check the board before giving permission

Check the board's current information and permission.

Board owner or responsible coach

Information that must remain

Permitted blank area or alternative

03 Give the drawing one bounded purpose

Define the drawing's limited role.

Drawing the athlete may make

Private details to leave out

Decision retained by the coach

04 Return the current direction to the group

Restore one clear current instruction.

Current direction confirmed

Unapproved marks cleared or labeled
