The Optional Activity Continue-or-Change Review

Honor the real commitment without inventing an indefinite one.

Responsible persistence includes honest review, actual terms and prompt attention to necessary care.

Example: a child and parent choose to finish the accepted lesson term without renewal. The parent confirms notice, and the child offers a truthful thank-you for a skill taught.

01 Hear the proposed change

Distinguish leaving now from not renewing.

Activity and requested change

Child's specific reason

What is working

Concern needing prompt attention

02 Verify the accepted term

Check actual documents or the provider.

Dates or sessions accepted

Notice or cancellation source

Responsibility still owed

Unclear term to ask about

The Optional Activity Continue-or-Change Review / Review & follow-through

03 Compare real options

Include household and care constraints.

Continue option actually available

Approved change or ending option

Practical effect on others

Adult decision and reason

04 Communicate and review

Complete the accepted follow-through.

Provider contact and confirmation

Child's appropriate goodbye

Decision takes effect when

Review of responsibilities completed