School Recognition Response Map

A missed award leaves room for honest next work.

Recognition is a decision to understand, not a verdict on a child's whole worth.

Hypothetical example: a child misses a subject award, asks for one useful piece of feedback, and congratulates a classmate without claiming to be pleased about missing out.

01 The disappointment

Hear what the child expected.

Award named

Child's expectation

Words describing the disappointment

02 Criteria and questions

Check the actual school information.

Verified criterion

Source or teacher contact

Question still unanswered

School Recognition Response Map / Review & follow-through

03 The public response

Choose words the child can truthfully say.

Person to congratulate

Short courteous sentence

Private concern for an adult

04 The next work

Choose a useful task without promising a prize.

Specific feedback

Owned practice task

Person who can clarify the task