Accent Respect and Clarification Plan

Ask for the word without making the voice the joke.

A request for understanding should serve the conversation rather than turn a speaker into entertainment.

Hypothetical example: A child replaces an exaggerated imitation with a plain request to hear one missed word again.

01 Stop the imitation without repeating the joke

Record the conduct without reenacting or spreading the imitation.

Actual remark or conduct

Audience that heard it

Adult response I gave

02 Do not treat unfamiliar speech as a defect

Separate an actual communication question from assumptions about the speaker.

Assumption I must not add

Clarification genuinely needed

Accent Respect and Clarification Plan / Review & follow-through

03 Teach the question that serves understanding

Practice a respectful request and choose any appropriate repair route.

Respectful replacement question

Suitable repair if welcome

Responsible adult route when needed

04 Change what the household rewards

Review the child's conduct and the adult example that supported it.

Adult example to correct

Conduct to stop repeating

Follow-up still owed
