Damaged School Work Restart Sheet

Save what remains and restart the actual assignment.

An accident does not authorize an invented school exception or adult-written work.

Hypothetical example: a child identifies the readable parts of a water-damaged poster and restarts the missing section while the parent asks the teacher about the actual submission requirement.

01 What remains

Describe the damage without declaring everything lost.

Affected part of the work

Usable part remaining

Work not yet finished before the spill

02 Actual assignment

Keep the restart tied to the given task.

Required submission

Deadline actually stated

Requirement needing teacher clarification

Damaged School Work Restart Sheet / Review & follow-through

03 Truthful handoff

Do not make the accident a false completion claim.

Short explanation

Teacher's answer received or pending

Record appropriate to preserve

04 Student restart

Give help without supplying the student's answers.

First restart step

Parent help limited to instruction or materials

One setup change for next time