Modest Hospitality: The Real Capacity Plan

Offer a welcome the household can actually keep.

A manageable invitation respects the guest's needs and the family's real space, money, supervision, and time.

Example: one guest is invited for an hour of tea. The adults agree on the cost, seating, preparation, and cleanup before inviting.

01 Shape the invitation

Make a modest offer with a clear purpose.

Guest or household invited

Purpose of the visit

Date and time offered

Honest end time

02 Check capacity

Use real limits rather than an imagined ideal.

Available seating

Spending limit

Guest need to confirm

Supervision or access concern

Modest Hospitality: The Real Capacity Plan / Review & follow-through

03 Prepare simply

Assign what the visit actually requires.

Necessary space to ready

Simple food or drink plan

Child's suitable role

Adult preparation owner

04 Finish and review

Keep the offered care and the cleanup owned.

Cleanup owner

Offer actually kept

Cost or workload observed

Next invitation adjustment