Choose a Suitable Setting Before a Private Athlete Conversation - working notes

One situation. Clear facts. An honest next step.

Plan a setting that meets the applicable policy while protecting the conversation's dignity. Under MAAPP's covered one-on-one rule, contact must be observable and interruptible unless a valid exception applies.

Hypothetical example: A routine goal conversation uses the organization's approved visible arrangement. Sensitive details stay out of the planning form, and the conversation pauses if the required conditions change.

01 Decide the setting before discussing the subject

Check the applicable supervision and safeguarding policy.

Policy and organization

Ordinary conversation purpose

Authorized guidance needed

02 Check both parts of the standard

Identify a setting meeting both required visibility and interruptibility.

Approved setting category

How observable requirement is met

How interruptible requirement is met

Choose a Suitable Setting Before a Private Athlete Conversation - working notes / Review & follow-through

03 Preserve dignity without promising secrecy

Keep the topic discreet without promising secrecy.

Supervision arrangement

Privacy boundary explained

Condition requiring a pause

04 Use the proper route for a serious concern

Use appropriate protective routes and review changed conditions.

Actual setting used

Restricted record or reporting route

Change requiring review