The Conviction-to-Action Family Worksheet

Write words that can guide an ordinary Tuesday.

A mission statement needs observable duties and adult accountability. It should guide decisions rather than decorate a wall.

Example: conviction-truthful speech. Action-correct inaccurate promises promptly. Draft-We honor Christ through honesty, responsibility, and patient service. Decision test-We decline an extra activity until our existing commitments have owners and time.

01 Name the convictions

Use language your household can explain.

Convictions that guide us

What these words mean in our home

Recent example of living them

Gap an adult needs to address

02 Make the values observable

Describe actions rather than ideal family traits.

Action that practices a conviction

Boundary that protects it

Method or preference we can adjust

Family concerns to consider

The Conviction-to-Action Family Worksheet / Review & follow-through

03 Draft and test

Use a real choice to check whether the words help.

Our short mission statement

Real decision to test it against

What the statement requires here

Language that needs clarification

04 Put the statement to work

Give the first commitment an owner and a review.

First adult commitment

Who owns the practical action

When that action will happen

Date and question for review
