The Scripture Memory and Meaning Sheet

Remember the words and examine the application.

Family Scripture memory should stay connected to context, understanding, and appropriate conduct. Recitation speed is not a measure of faith.

Example: the family records a short passage and its translation, discusses who is speaking, and practices a few lines. Adults choose one relevant speech habit to examine and return to the text when a word remains unclear.

01 Record the text

Use one exact passage and translation.

Passage reference

Translation the family uses

Selected words or reading location

Speaker and surrounding context

02 Explain the meaning

Keep interpretation distinct from the family method.

Meaning in words we understand

Word or question to study further

Claim the passage does not make

Suitable teaching help to consult

03 Choose accessible practice

Let each person participate appropriately.

Practice method that fits us

Reading or communication support

Brief practice opportunity

Adult participation and example

04 Apply and review

Return to the text as well as the remembered words.

Relevant ordinary action

What we actually remember

What still needs understanding
