Grocery Substitution Receiving Record

The delivered package controls the dinner decision.

Expected, accepted and received are separate product states.

Hypothetical example: a family receives a seasoned replacement for a plain ingredient, checks the current package, changes dinner and records the seller request separately.

01 Reconcile the order

Record the ordered, accepted and received products.

Original requested item

Accepted substitution if any

Actual received package

02 Receive the food

Check food condition and appropriate storage.

Condition or measured concern

Applicable storage instruction

Food-handling adult and action

Grocery Substitution Receiving Record / Review & follow-through

03 Decide the meal

Decide whether the substitute fits tonight's meal.

Ingredient and preparation difference

Use, suitable alternative or meal change

Question sent through seller process

04 Complete the handoff

Confirm the dinner handoff and actual order resolution.

Current dinner plan

Seller response actually received

Future substitution setting to review