Infant Honey Boundary Plan

Ask before offering the shared dish

The adults preparing food own the age-specific ingredient decision.

Hypothetical example: A host tells the infant's caregiver that a topping contains honey and follows the approved separate feeding arrangement.

01 Make the baby's food a separate adult decision

Confirm the infant's age and responsible caregiver's feeding plan.

Age confirmed with caregiver

Responsible feeding adult

Existing feeding instructions

02 Keep the actual honey boundary clear

Check the actual recipe or package for honey.

Dish or product checked

Honey information found

Unresolved ingredient question

Infant Honey Boundary Plan / Review & follow-through

03 Resolve the recipe before the spoon reaches the table

Resolve the infant's food before combining or offering ingredients.

Caregiver-approved food arrangement

Recipe preparation decision

Adult owning the portion

04 Give every helper the same instruction

Tell every feeding helper the agreed boundary and actual status.

Helpers informed

Actual food offered

Concern to discuss with healthcare professional